1. Nature of the tasks

The mission of Unit D1 is to develop and implement company taxation policies, in line with the Treaty objectives and the needs of the Internal Market. This includes policies to remove obstacles and facilitate businesses in the Internal Market, to promote tax good governance and to tackle harmful tax practices in the EU and internationally.

We are looking for a person with several years' experience working on direct tax policy in the public sector, to join our busy team. The candidate should have detailed knowledge of company taxation issues and practical experience in the preparation and implementation of direct tax policy and law. Experience of working on company taxation reform and international tax reforms would be an asset. As part of the international agenda, work will entail engaging with third country authorities, assessing their tax systems and proposing remedial actions. Close collaboration with the OECD is also expected.

The successful candidate will need good analytical, organisation and drafting skills. He/she should contribute to solving complex technical tax issues, and should enjoy working in a dynamic environment, which often entails delivering to tight deadlines. The nature of the work requires flexibility to work across different teams and on new or emerging issues.

Tasks will include preparing policy documents, working papers, briefings and speeches; following the legislative processes on key tax policy initiatives; and engaging with Member States, other EU institutions and key stakeholders on our files.
